Double Wedding Is Solomnized

A wedding of unusual interest occurred Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Roy, and Mrs. T. S. Burneil, on McCallie avenue.

Miss Neil Burnett became the bride of Mr. Carl Blessing, while Miss Bestha Burnett became the bride of Mr.
Raymond Brown.

Miss Neil and Bertha are well known in Chattanooga social circles, both young ladies being graduates of the University of Chattanooga, accomplisted musicians, and active workers in the First Methodist church. Miss Neil Burnett is secretary of the Sunday school, and Miss Bertha Burnett is interested in the primary department. They both are members of the Queen Eather circia. Mr. Blessing is a native Chattanoogan, associated with Trigg Dobbs and company and will be located at Harriman, Tenn., where the young couple will make their home. Mr. Blessing served in the navy, having been stationed at Fanama during the war.

Mr. Raymond Brown is connected with the Matthews Electic company, of Birmingham, Ala. During the war Mr. Brown served a year in France with the Dixle division. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Ishmael Physic sang "O Fromise mingham, Ala. Ishmael Payne sang "O Promise Two dainty little flower girls. Elizabeth Streeter and Dorothy Misses Elizabeth Streeter and Dorothy Hunter led the bridal procession.

Miss Ruth Burnett, the dubatante siser of the brides, played Mendelssohn's V*-dding March. The ring service said by Rev. H. E. Murkett and the double eleremony was beautiful and impressive.

Mrs. Blessing was dressed in a travelng suit of blue tricotine with hat of naline.

Mrs. Brown were a handsome suit, elaborately trimmed with silk braid. Both brides carried corsage bouquets of Valley lilies, sweet peas and smilax. Miss Ruth Burnett were lavender organdy. Mrs. Burnett, the brides mother was gowned in a blue silk trimmed with lace.

Miss Abce Guinn, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Misses Margaret Henry, Lois Jones, Stella Doty and Elisabeth Twells were bridesmaids.

The groomsmen were Sherrill Chambers, Clarence Sewart, Sherrill Milliten and Murphy Stewart. Luther Forester was best man. Little Misses Margaret Tarwater and Katherine Backus were flower girls and little Leona Bernice Doty served as ring bearer.

The bride wore a full bridal tollette of white satin, and her veil of tulle was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of Bride's roses and littles of the valley. The maid of honor was dressed in blue satin and the bride's maids wore frocks of organdie in rainbow tints. They carried baskets filled with rose petals. After the cremony a reception was hold. An ice course was served. The brides cakes bearing the initials "B. B" decorated the table.

The decorations were Marguerites and ferns, the fireplace was banked with green and baskets of flowers with white tulle bows hung at either side.

Among the guests from a distance were: Miss Eula Anthony, and Miss Hallie Anthony, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Burkle, of Knoxville, Tenn.

There were many beautiful gifts from friends including silver, cut-glass and china in exquisite designs.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Blessing will spend their honeymoon on the sea coast.

W. CLARE JACOWAY WEDS MISS RUTH ALLISON

The wedding of Miss Ruth Allison and W. Clare Jacoway was an event of interest which took place on Thursday at the Methodist church in Rising Fawn. Rev. H. K. Allison, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. K. Henderson, officiated, using the full ring service.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color note of yellow and white being followed. Before the ceremony Miss Henrietta White sang "Because" and "O Promise Me," accompanied by the Misses Cureton. Miss Mary Nell Fahev, of Birmingham, Ala., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Misse Grace Cureton, of Rising Fawn: Miss Jewell Rutherford and Miss Bess Evans, of Chattanooga, were bridesmaids.

Mr. Jacoway had as his best man, his brother, Mr. A. Griggs Jacoway, Messrs, Carl Darley, Etler J. Bryan, Earl Stuart, of Chattanooga, Paul B. Rodgers, of Birmingham, Ala, and Edmond Allison, of Rising Fawn, served as groomsmen.

The couple left immediately for a wedding trip. They will be at home after June 15, at 512 Palmetto street, Chattanooga.

LUTZ-GUINN

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church of Alton Park the wedding of Miss Amy Guinn and Mr. William Lutz was solemnized by Rev. Charles B. Tarwater. The full ring ceremony was used.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and magnelias. Henry Wickizer was in

Hart and Reid are Stars At Rialto for Next Week

"The Toll Gate" and "The Dancin' Fool" Are Their Vehicles.

"The Toil Gate," William S. Hart's latest western photoplays, and the first of his own production, will be shown at the Rialto Sunday, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The cast of this picture is;

Black Deering, William S. Hart; Mary Brown, Anna Q. Nilson; The Sheriff, Jack Richardson; Jordan, Joseph Singleton, and "The Little Feller," Master Richard Headrick, Hart appears ashead of a bandit gang, but honorable man beneath his rough exterior. Deering is anxious to abandon his life of pillaging, but Jordan, his chief lieutenant, urges hi mto one more hold-up. It is a frame-up and Deering is captured. But he manages to escape and performs several thilling and hazardous feats in order to clude the aheriff's posse that is trailing him.

Eventually Deering reaches safety in a clearing where the cabin of Mary Brown is located. She proves to be the deserted wife of Jordan. Under her influence, Deering resolves to do the right thing and gives himself to the sheriff. As a volunteer, he rescues a detachment of deputies from Jordan and kills the traitor. As a reward, the sheriff allows him his freedom, provided he departs south into Mexico.

Anna Q. Nilsson makes an appealing leading woman. Bill Hart's famous Pinto pony comes in for a good share of the attention and takes a notable part in many of the thriling scenes. Hart and Lambert Hillyer are the authors of the story, and the latter directed the picture.

in many of the thriling scenes. Hart and Lambert Hillyer are the authors of the story, and the latter directed the picture.

"The Toil Gate" is the first of the big new William S. Hart productions made by his own company to be released by Paramount Artcraft.

The last half of the week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Rialto, Wallace Reid, popular star of the screen will be seen in "The Dancin' Fool." The cast of his picture is:

Sylvester Tibble, Wallace Reid; June Budd, Bebe Daniels; Enoch Jones, Raymond Hatton; Meeks, Williams; Ma Budd, Lillian Leighton; Elkus, Carlos San Martin; Gaines, W. H. Brown; Harkins, Tully Marshall; Dorothy Harkins, Ruth Ashby; Tom Reed, Ernest Joy.

Wallie is Sylvester Tibble, lately arrived in New York from a country town to work for his Uncle Enoch, in the jug business. The latter is a hidehound conservative with the result that his profits have pretty well dwindled off into space. Sylvester, known as "Ves", shocks his uncle with the modern innovations he introduces and is in a continual row with him. In the meantime, "Ves" meets Junie Budd, dancer in a cabaret, in which he happens to drift. The discovery that "Ves" is a crackerjack dancer results in his becoming her partner at "The Garden of Roses," a high-class cabaret. Thus he works by day at six dollars a week and by night for two hundred. But gradually "Ves" focusses his attention on business, to the dismay of Junie, and goes on the road for his uncle with a big advertising scheme that is maryelously successful. He returns in time to rescue the jug business and to claim Junie for his own. Bebe Danlels plays the role of Junie, and Raymond Hatton, Tully Marshall, and Lillian Leighton are also in the cast. The picture was adapted from a popular magazine story by Henry Payson Dowst. Sam Wood directed, and it is a Paramount Artcraft picture.

SPLENDID VAUDEVILLE PROMISED NEXT WEEK

but he is certainly a source of merriment.

The last half of the week offers among others: Presser, Klaiss and Saxe, who describe themselves as "A Lively Trio," and as patter is their principal asset, "Lively" seems just the word to use. They entertain with song, dance and music. The trio is composed of two men and a girl, and each is a performer in his own right.

Two girls and a man compose the Ronda's Trio. They are dancers, instrumentalists, and dancers with a change of costume for each number. They appear as Spanish troubadours, smartly clad moderns, and in costumes of typical present day musical comedy. The things they do, they do well, and they do so many things that they are entitled to be called "A Novelty Surprise."
